And Other Plans Followed to Get Money Back in Circulation.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The annual report of the treasurer of the United States, Ellis J. Roberts, on the operations and condition of the treasury was submitted to Secretary Gage today. Roberts says the prosperity of the country and general activity of business is reflected in the transactions of this office. The not ordinary revenues of the government for the fiscal year were $567,240,853, the largest in the history of the country. An increase of $51,250,232 over the preceding year was contributed from all general sources, but chiefly from the customs and internal revenues. On the side of expenditures there was a net decrease of $117,858,388 in comparison with 1899, so a deficiency of $30,111,560 for the year was converted into a surplus of $79,527,000 in 1900. The gross receipts under warrant, including the amount of public debt, were $1,387,299,283, and the disbursements $1,195,043,472, a large increase on both sides over the previous year.

WANT THE ILLINOIS SCALE

Operators Say That Conditions Are Not Alike in the Two States.

AND THEY CAN'T PAY IT?

The Increase Demanded Is Equal to Twenty Per Cent.

Terre Haute, Nov. 12.—More than two hundred mining engineers and 7000 miners in the state of Indiana will on Monday commence a strike as a result of the failure of the Indiana blue and bituminous coal operators to sign the scale presented them today by the engineers. The scale submitted to the operators of the state and is higher than that paid in Indiana. The operators were willing to pay the present scale in Indiana, until the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at Indianapolis in January, at which time the question of paying the Illinois scale to Indiana miners was to have been considered. When the operators at tonight's conference announced their intention of refusing to sign the scale until the matter could be decided at the Indianapolis convention, Secretary Dunken and Chief Taylor of the Hoisting Engineers' Brotherhood wired the officials of the different mining districts declaring a strike.

GOLD MORE PLENTIFUL.

It is a significant comparison that on June 30, 1890, the per centage of United States notes was 22.68. Two years ago it was as high as 33.07. While the volume of United States notes, treasury notes and silver certificates is limited by statutory provisions, the stock of gold is constantly growing. The metallic stock of money estimated for Oct. 1 at $1,089,288,620 in gold, $368,355,867 in silver dollars and bullion and $80,748 in fractional silver coins, aggregate $1,538,392,435. The amount of paper currency stamped with the seal of the department and prepared for issue, during the year ending September, 1900, was $253,102,000 against $362,412,000 in the year preceding. The increasing demand for notes of small denominations has been so heavy, and so fully met by the department, that taking into account the gold coin, only $329,048,023 of the estimated total circulation of $2,115,294,953, October 1, was in denominations larger than $20.

SOBBIAN COIN.

The provisions made by congress for an increase of subsidiary silver coinage of $100,000,000 has been a great convenience, and the department through the mint has been able to supply all demands for these coins.

COUNTERFEITS.

During the fiscal year there was detected and destroyed at the office of the treasury $11,140 in counterfeit silver coins, notes and certificates; 3277 five-cent pieces and 321,652 one-cent pieces. A comparison with previous years shows a significant change except in the number of spurious coins in circulation which are rapidly on the increase. Counterfeit gold coins are rare, only 13 having been presented to the treasury during the year.

GETTING IT IN CIRCULATION.

As the receipts of the treasury were greater than the needs of the government measures were adopted by the secretary of the treasury for the purpose of restoring the surplus money to general circulation. Those measures including the preparation of interest and an offer to purchase four and five per cent bonds up to $25,000,000 and notes that $25,000,000, then outstanding, of the 2 per cent loan of 1891 would be paid on presentation up to November 1, redemption of $25,000,000 outstanding. The bond purchase under the call for $25,000,000 was completed on October 4 and with an amount of $10,000,000 the exchange of $25,000,000 for premiums. The exchange of $25,000,000 for premiums, and new 3 per cent for 2 per cent bonds, under the provisions of the financial act, proceeded steadily. The total amount of exchangeable securities outstanding was $830,148,840 and by June 30, $307,123,400, or 36.8 per cent of them had been converted into new two's. The premiums allowed under the provisions of the law amounted to $30,773,852 and in the transaction $80,404,850 was paid out of the treasury, after the adjustments of interest, and some other accounts.

THE BIG SAVING IN INTEREST.

Having of interest affected by the operation is placed at $2,604,817. On Oct. 1, out of $290,756,130 in bonds held by the treasury as security for circulating notes of national banks, $253,075,000 were new two's. The aggregate amount of money of all kinds in circulation October 1, is estimated at $2,115,294,953 an increase of $180,810,744 in 15 months, of which $94,440,930 is due to the enlarged use of gold and silver certificates. The increase per capita was from $25.88 to 27.01. The per capita of gold at the latter date was $10.00, which was greater than that of all currency in 1862, while the total of gold was greater than all circulation at any time previous to July, 1870. On October 1, 30.24 per cent of the total circulation was in gold and silver certificates, 36.48 in silver dollars and silver certificates and treasury notes, 15.84 per cent in

JUST CAUSE WON

HEARERS WILDLY CHEER HIM

Premier Deprecates War and Urges Peace Policy for England.

HE WANTS NONE OF CHINA

English Should Leave China to Govern Themselves.

London, Nov. 9.—What is probably the most brilliant of all public functions in England, the Lord Mayor's banquet, took place this evening. It will be a memorable event to Americans by reason of the following remarks of Lord Salisbury, who in the presence of 300 guests, including United States Ambassadors Choate, members of the British cabinet, and many leading men of England, spoke as follows of the American election:

SALISBURY REMARKS.
"We believe in a cause which has won the cause of civilization and commercial liberty. We believe those principles to be the root of all prosperity and all progress in the world. Therefore we cannot but be glad to rejoice in what has taken place as the distinguished gentlemen (referring to Choate) who sit by my side."

"This was followed by loud and prolonged cheering which made the gold plate on the silver chalice, the great rafters of Guild hall to ring and ring again. Salisbury's position in the international politics of the United States was preceded by an appeal in the course of which he said:

"One of the circumstances which has gratified me most during the last year is the very hearty, friendly feeling displayed between this country and the United States. I hope Mr. Choate will forgive me, if there is any irregularity in my expression. It is quite wrong for a secretary of state to make any observations with respect to the internal politics of another country, but I am soon to give up my office and in view of this abandonment, which is close at hand, I have Mr. Choate will forgive me for expressing the sincere satisfaction with which all of us have heard of what has recently taken place in the United States."

Mr. Choate replying in a few minutes later to the toast, "The Diplomatic Corps," declared that Salisbury had so stated the truth in simplicity and earnestness as to the result of the election that he (Choate) would not attempt to add to it, although he would venture to congratulate the noble lord upon the fact that his remarks have been made, after instead of before the election.

DEPRECATES WAR.

Except in his references to the United States, the speech of the premier cast a shadow of gloom over the gorgeous banquet. Following directly after the colonial commanding the city imperial volunteers, Lord Salisbury started his hearers, who caught the drift of his remarks by protesting the courage of the speaker, although declaring that the excessive admiration of military valor, which the populace must possess a change of attitude on the part of our side of the world when viewing English character. Then, with lowered voice and an almost trembling accent, he went on to speak of the price of victory and the ravages of death, dwelling especially with the queen's bereavement in the loss of Prince Christian Victor. Finally, with bent head and hands clasped, he uttered the hope, almost a prayer, that Lord Roberts might be spared the sorrow now hanging over him by reason of the critical condition of his daughter. Tears sprang to the eyes of the women, and the men bowed unconsciously in their seats, and silence and solemnity grew oppressive.

Awakening from self abstraction, the premier reviewed the events of the last twelve months. Kruger and the empire of China, as went on to say, and forced war upon Great Britain. He maintained that the British war office deserved great credit for the way in which it handled these emergencies.

"Despite the nebulous and flimsy attacks, we should be glad to improve all defects of the war office," he continued, "and our utmost efforts should be devoted to that task; but I should rather deprecate any unnecessary examination to what has occurred. You will not add to the enthusiasm of your troops by so doing."

WANTS NONE OF CHINA.

He maintained emphatically that the idea of having China with "our army force" or of "approaching the stupendous task of governing China instead of leaving it to be governed by Chinese" is most dangerous.

Relaying into parliament, Lord Salisbury admitted the trend of recent events has almost put an end to the hopes of the Russian emperor, and others who took part in the peace conference at The Hague. The extraordinary speech closed with a fervid appeal to the people of England to maintain their defenses in such perfect condition that "We shall not be exposed to any sudden interruption of peace upon which our prosperity depends."

"The supreme condition," exclaimed the premier, "is that no reform and no improvement in the slightest value unless secured by putting our defenses in such position that no accident may happen beyond our borders that shall make our security doubtful."

LONDON PAPERS.

Voice Their Sentiments On the Recent Election.

SCHEME OF RESUSCITATION

Organization Must Be Rid of the Mass of Idlers.

MUST ALSO DUMP W. J. BRYAN

He is Now Looked Upon as the Little Old Man of the Sea.

The majority of Salisbury's hearers believed this warning, which was delivered in his most impressive manner, referred to the possibility of French antagonism.

"The whole world is interested in the election of an American president and justly for it concerns the whole world. We do not, it is true, believe Bryan, if elected, could have put back the clock, and compelled Americans to attend exclusively to their domestic affairs. Circumstances are stronger than the feelings of the founders of the republic and a rich people of 25,000,000, seated on the Atlantic and Pacific with the growing necessity for commerce with the far east, must interfere with the politics of Asia. Therefore in the politics of nations who are trying to outstep Asia, the American people have been consulted and accept their position as a world wide power, ready for the consequent sacrifices and will in the future share in the general movement of nations. Instead of standing cynically and selfishly aloof, they will govern Hawaii and Porto Rico, they will keep the Philippines, and will acquire as much of the world as is essential to the development of their power and trade. We heartily welcome the decision."

The speaker tomorrow will say: "The things which are apparent are that man is the slave of the dollar. That seems to be the chief impression conveyed by the victory of McKinley. The worst type must know that the party Croker leads in New York must be far from an ideal party. What is rather actually called Bryanism, which might better be called a new democracy, does singularly represent the effort to raise the American republic to a better standard of life, to remind the people of the idealism from which the republic was born, to curb the dangerous power of unbridled capitalism and to make republican institutions square with the principles of liberty and equality and what is good in the politics of Bryan will remain. It is Bryan's personality as a candidate for president which disappears, for the simple reason that the aggression of monopolies is certain to become more tyrannical and more insolent every day. Materialism is riding rampant in the United States as in Europe."

NEW YORK HURRICANE.

Storm Does Considerable Damage in and Around the Metropolis.

New York, Nov. 9.—The first touch of westerly weather came to town today in the form of a west wind, which at 11 o'clock this morning was blowing at the rate of 23 miles an hour. It made a slushway of lower Broadway and the narrow downtown streets, lifting off hats and playing a thousand and one pranks with unwary pedestrians who rounded corners incautiously. Up to 10 o'clock tonight, on loss of life has been reported in New York City or Brooklyn, but stories of damage to buildings in the cities' suburbs are numerous.

Along Bling reports a severe gale accompanied by rain all over Westchester county. Many row boats and small yachts anchored in the Hudson were swamped or drifted away. The river ran very high, waves breaking against the stone wall along the tracks of the Hudson River railroad, drenched the cars and dashed spray in heavy showers against the car windows. Telegraph and telephone wires were broken down all over the country by falling branches of trees. Some trees were uprooted and toppled over.

The wind blew with the force of a hurricane over Staten Island, tearing down signs, trees, wires and trolley service was stopped for some time.

United States mail to Shelter Island were held up as ferry boats were unable to cross from the island to Greenport. Much damage was done shipping, several sloops being driven on the beach or having their rigging carried away. A big tow of barges was compelled to seek shelter and ride out the storm at anchor.

BOOST THE PRICE.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The Chronicle, to-morrow will say: "A flat increase of one cent per pound was put upon beef, pork and mutton today by the Chicago packers. In one year an additional cent will yield to the Chicago packers, basing the estimate upon last year's business, the following sums:

Dressed beef, $15,000,000; dressed pork and pork products, $20,000,000; mutton, $40,000,000. Total addition to incomes, $75,000,000.

Butchers of meats were thrown into a panic by the unexpected rise in price. In the adjustment of prices to the consumer choice cuts of beef have gone up as much as five cents. Pork tenderloin jumped to same extent, and mutton chops went up three cents. The advance by packers is more than ten per cent on the price of meat today before the election. The advance by retailers to the consumer will average 25 per cent for the waste in the case of double the increased cost of the salable portions.

The packers claim they have been selling dressed meats at a loss for several years. In six months the price of meat cuts has gone up $2.50 per 100 pounds. There has been no corresponding advance in the price of cattle, hogs or sheep. Representative packers in charge of the dressed meat department say the advance was justified by the condition of the trade and its imposition on the heels of election is but a coincidence.

THE VIVISECTION

Of the Democratic Corpus Continued by Party Leaders.

SCHEME OF RESUSCITATION

Organization Must Be Rid of the Mass of Idlers.

MUST ALSO DUMP W. J. BRYAN

He is Now Looked Upon as the Little Old Man of the Sea.

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—The Menapene received the following additional replies from leading democrats giving expressions with reference to the future of the democratic party.

LET PUBLIC FORGET.
J. H. McLaughlin.—The democratic party, notwithstanding it has had to carry many a heavy load, and that it has allowed the disappointed to enlist under its banner and at once become active directors in the party, has pulled about seven million votes.

"To any that such an organization should be abandoned or the devoted men of that organization should be dismissed or retired is a poor policy and will never meet with success. It is the duty of the party to calmly abide by the result and wait for events."

"I no more believe today that the republicanism party is right than I did on the morning of the 6th of this month. In many things the democratic party has been wrong, but its members are the liberty loving people of this country. The election has proven that the commercial interests of the country are paramount. Whether the commercial instinct will submerge all others is to be shown. Business interests must be regarded as values to be unimpaired, but the general government must not be forgotten."

"I believe as a party we should remain quiet, let the settlement of the moment pass, and later consolidate opposition to the republican party under conservative leaders, but not under selfish and personal politics that may be labeled with the name of any one man."

MUST FIRST REVENT.

J. Sterling Morton.—To be saved the democratic party should report of the crime of unconstitutionality with the populace and free itself of republicans. After that, it should remove Bryanism and all which that name publicly implies. Then it ought to maintain for the presidency in 1904 some man who would hold firmly for honest money, for tariff for revenue only, for a strict construction of the constitution and for the conscientious enforcement of laws as interpreted by the courts. The democracy can never be regenerated, disinfected and made immune from the vagaries and lunacies of the fanatics until it shall have renounced the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1, denounced the demand for the legislative and referendum, announced its sincere and deliberate purpose to stand up for, elevate and advance the principles of free government as illustrated by the frank and honest administrations of Jackson and Cleveland. A convention of the gold standard democrats, representing each state, delegated by the democracy of that national faith to meet at New Orleans January 8, 1901, might prove a good beginning for a revival of courage, conscientiousness and conquering democracy."

GET RID OF CROKER.

S. E. Morris, editor of the Indiana apollo Sentinel says: "The democratic principle throughout the land must be adhered to if the republic is to exist. Strictly economic questions must be temporarily regulated in control of the new democratic movement proceed in the hands of northern men of character and practical ideas, repudiating all pretensions of leadership on the part of such men as Richard Croker. The democratic movement must be patriotic and incorruptible as Bryan, but of wholly different temperament."

PLURALITY IN OHIO.

Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—Chairman Dick of the republican state executive committee today announced that McKinley's plurality in Ohio from complete returns from every precinct is 71,162. These figures will not be changed until official count has been completed.

DESPERADO'S DEADLY WORK.

CALLED BY DEATH

WAS WELL KNOWN LOCALLY

He Had Always Taken An Active Interest in Local Politics—Was a Democratic Worker.

AFTER A SHERIFF.

Carroll Finin died Friday evening at his home at 614 East Leaf-land avenue, aged 61 years. The announcement of his death will be a surprise to his acquaintances, many of whom had not been aware that he was ill, at least not dangerously ill, that his life was in danger.

Carroll Finin was one of the most widely known men in Decatur. That came in a large part because of the active interest he always had in affairs of local politics. He was one of the active workers and while he was always an "industrial" man there was nothing that gave him such keen delight as talking in politics and if there was anything on a political way he was among the first to get trace of it. For a number of years he was janitor at the Mangum street school building. When B. K. Durfee was appointed insurance commissioner in the Altgeld administration Carroll Finin was given a place in the insurance department. When G. A. Stadler was elected mayor the deceased was appointed sewer inspector and held that position at the time of his death. He had not been in robust health for many months but his acquaintances did not realize that he was really in a critical condition. On Tuesday he was able to go out and went to the polls in the precinct in which he lived and also came down town. Last summer he suffered a severe illness, a complication of stomach and bowel trouble, and when he left his bed to resume his duties for the city he was really not in a condition to work. However he kept at it when over no was able to get about. It is said that his work in the sewers had in a measure assisted in hastening his end, for his system had become poisoned by the noxious gases he inhaled.

BIG STRIKE SETTLED.

Pittsburg, Nov. 9.—Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers announce a settlement today of the strike at the Riverdale Iron Works, of the National Tube Co. and the Riverdale Iron Works of the Tennessee Iron Steel railroad company. Chicago, Nov. 9.—Governor Tanner has declared himself a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Cul-lum. Congressman Cannon of Danville may be a candidate later. He said today he would look over the ground and if he found the situation favorable he would become a candidate.

Biloxi's Bad Blaze.

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—Upwards of 75 houses were destroyed by fire at Biloxi, Miss. The fire broke out shortly after midnight. The small fire department was powerless to stay the flames which were fanned by a fierce gale. Houses were blown down in various parts of the city to check the spread. The Catholic church, convent and schools, newspaper offices and many business houses and residences were consumed. The fire was still burning furiously at daybreak. Hundreds of people are homeless. The inhabitants were in a panic. The losses exceed $300,000.

Not Organizing Parties.

Detroit, Nov. 9.—Former Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson, today denied an alleged interview that appeared in a New York paper yesterday, in which he was made to say he had been decided upon at a meeting in New York for a re-organization of the democratic party. He was asked if he knew whether such had been or was to be held. Dickinson replied: "I decline to make any statement. I'm not engaged in promoting any movement for the reorganization of the party."

THE CATHOLIC MISSION.

Is Nearing a Close After Eight Days—Yesterday's Sermons.

At St. Patrick's Catholic church Sunday morning Rev. Shyne spoke to the congregation on the foregoing of the faith of one's neighbors and urged them that they should harbor no ill-feeling, but should show a readiness to exhibit a forgiving spirit as Christ has done.

The church was filled at both the morning and evening services. At the evening service Miss Irene Welfel and Miss Wilson sang solos and at the morning service Mrs. Marie Moore sang a solo. At night Father Shyne delivered a sermon on the Catholic mission of "Tennessee," and said that Christ had founded, as he is recorded in St. John vi, 27, to give his followers his flesh to eat and his blood to drink. "The bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world." The Lord's words were taken by his audience as literally true. Only 300 years ago innovators denied the literal interpretation and asserted that Christ spoke figuratively. In striving to avoid the Catholic tradition and interpretation of fifteen centuries, they gave by actual count 150 meanings to the simple words of Christ.

"Whenever the phrase 'eat one's flesh' is found in scripture in a figurative sense, it always seems to backbite, to denigrate. Hence if our Savior's word should be taken in that sense the meaning of the scripture would be: 'Unless you eat me you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven' and that would be blasphemous."

"When Christ was misunderstood he always corrected the false impression left by his words. When he was understood correctly he added by his words no matter what the effect produced upon the people. So when pronouncing the holy sacrament and asserting that he would leave his children his body and blood under the appearance of bread and wine, the Jews understood him in a literal sense, and they put the proper construction on his words. He also times asserted and swore by eternal truth that he would give his real body and blood. The Jewish objection, 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?' is repeated to-day but surely put underlines the sense of truth. Bread and wine, body and blood are only creatures and plastic materials in the hands of the Creator. The flat that brought beings into existence can change one into another."

The speaker here enlarged on the faculty of objection, that it is impossible to understand the mystery and said that it is a subject for faith and not for discursive processes of intellect.

From the recital of the Lord's supper as given by Jesus present Christ identifies the body and blood. He gave to the apostles with the body and blood that were on the cross Christ's body. The Catholic in all the centuries with Peter says to the divine Master: "Lord where shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life, we believe in thee."

Here the speaker refuted several objections usually urged against the real presence, and passed on to the apostolic and primitive belief in this matter, which is beyond the possibility of doubt identical with Catholic teachings of today.

Looking down the centuries we find all the great teachers teaching the doctrine. The apostles, the doctors, the fathers of the church, the saints and people, all without exception have believed and received often times the body and blood of Christ. The first to deny the sacrament of truth were the disciples of the 16th century, who dared not to touch the body of holies with polluted hands and defiled hearts.

The father closed his discourse with an appeal to all to frequent the holy table. Tonight Father Shyne will deliver a lecture.

BARNEY IN TROUBLE.

Predicament of a Patrolman Who Has a Smart Wife.

After a Protracted Discussion Mr. Flynn Comes to the Conclusion That He Is Not as Smart as His Better Half.

Barney Flynn, 45, is in the Century following more or less veracious story of a patrolman in Flynn.

There was a patrolman pop, pop, pop in the alley back of the house, and Mrs. Flynn put her head out of the kitchen door to see what was the matter.

"What are ye doin' out there, Barney?" she asked.

"Practicin' wid me gun," answered Barney.

"Oh!" exclaimed Mrs. Flynn. "Practicin' wid yer gun, is it? Ye're a new man on the force, an' ye think ye've got to be blazin' away at every turn door in the ward. Tell me, now, isn't there an original term shootin' in the city limits?"

At this Patrolman Flynn thoughtfully scratched his head.

"Right ye are," he said at last; "but 'tis for the gazette widout the shirt that the original was made."

"Does yer book tell ye that?" demanded Mrs. Flynn.

Patrolman Flynn pulled a summary of the principal ordinances and the rules and regulations of the department from his pocket and looked through it slowly and carefully.

"Does it tell ye?" demanded Mrs. Flynn, again, "that an officer of the law kin make a shootin' gallery of the alley beechin his house an' the one next behind it?"

"It does not," admitted the patrolman, regretfully.

"Doesn't it tell ye to punch the man that shoots in the city limits?"

"Mary, I'll not lie to ye," answered Patrolman Flynn, after a moment of reflection. "It says that same."

"Then 'tis for ye, Barney Flynn," asserted his better half, decisively, "to take yerself to the station an' charge yerself wid disorderly conduct."

Patrolman Flynn winced. The real

PEDDLES MEDICINE.

Former Governor Leedy of Kansas Adapts New Business for Retrieving His Fortune.

Out in Kansas during the last few years many men have leaped into sudden political prominence, and with equal suddenness have gone back into almost complete obscurity. Among the more recent and spectacular of these political meteors is former Gov. John W. Leedy, who has started out to peddle a new patent medicine through the state.

In explaining his action Mr. Leedy points out that as governor his salary was but $3,000 a year, and that he was compelled to spend most of that sum to maintain the dignity of the office. When his term expired he and some money, and with that as capital he went into the Kansas-Missouri fine districts, where he made speculations which proved disastrous. As a result he found himself practically penniless. Then a well known Kansas physician made him a proposition to go into partnership with him in the manufacture of a patent medicine, and Leedy took him up. He declares that he feels no loss of dignity and is not troubled with false pride in starting out with his wagon.

"I must have an income," he says, "and a man can't make a business of being governor. We have something to sell, and it is my business to find customers. I am simply doing what hundreds of men have done before me. Because I have been a little unfortunate in financial matters, is that any reason why I should lie down and give up the fight?"

MARQUIS OF LANDSOWNE.

Public Career of the Peer Who Has Been Made British Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

The lord of 145,000 acres of land, Henry Charles Keith Petty-Fitzmaurice, marquis of Lansdowne, has a long list of territorial and other titles, but perhaps his chief claim to the distinction of long and honorable descent is the fact that he is the twenty-sixth son of Kerry and Lixnaw, which carries his pedigree back to 1181, and that one of his ancestors was Strongbow, earl of Pembroke.

The present marquis, the fifth, is 55 years old. His mother was a daughter of Comte de Plahault and Baroness Keith and Nairn. He entered official life at the age of 24, when, as a warm adherent of Mr. Gladstone, he was made lord of the treasury. After three years in this office he became under secretary for war, holding the post two years.

MARQUIS OF LANDSOWNE.
(Just Appointed British Secretary for Foreign Affairs.)

In 1880 he was made under secretary for India, but resigned the office the same year because of his dissent from the home rule policy.

From 1883 to 1888 he was governor general of Canada, and followed this by a term as viceroy of India, being named by Lord Salisbury, with whose unflinching policy he has strongly identified himself. His governorship of India from 1888 to 1893 was less remarkable for domestic reforms than for his work in strengthening the frontier defenses and building strategical railways.

An exhaustive study of the nails of the hand has been made by P. A. Minakoff, and some of the results appear to be of medico-legal importance.

"Among other things," says Popular Science, "he asserts that the nails of the right hand in a right-handed person are wider by one-half to two millimeters than the corresponding nails on the left hand; while in a left-handed person the reverse obtains, and in the ambidextrous the nails are of equal size on the two hands. The thickness of the nails diminishes progressively from the thumb to the little finger."

Fine Horses.

Will Wallace left last night for Chicago for the purpose of delivering several pairs of horses to which he sold to Chicago persons the past week. Among the number was a fine chestnut coach horse for H. M. Theodor & Co., for which he received $3000. A pair of fine bay cobs were sold to Mrs. Norman Wilkins for $600. W. R. Linn, a prominent board of trade man, for $800 got a pair of 10-band bay coach horses that are fine enough to make the best of Chicago nags look up a little. Another pair went to L. Butner for $700.

Wallace sold a fine cross matched pair of horses to J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central, last week and Mr. Harahan wrote him that the horses arrived in good order, and that he was well pleased with them.

This string of horses are the last of a lot of fine bred animals purchased by Wallace in Missouri several months ago.

Naughty Kid.

New York, Nov. 11.—Despot P. Ingraham, the referee in the suit, has found that Mrs. Julia P. Selby, the wife of Norman Selby, usually known as "Kid" McCoy, is entitled to an absolute divorce from her husband. He filed his report in the office of the county clerk Saturday. The testimony was asked. Infidelity was charged.

Too Humiliating.

"Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have informed me the demands of the powers for the punishment of Prince Tuan and the withdrawal from power of the emperor are too humiliating to be committed by the Chinese."

BACK YARD ARGUMENT.

"What Are Ye Doin' Out There, Barney?" Asked Mrs. Flynn.

Barney was clear, but he objected to the conclusion.

"I refuse," he said, at length, "to go wid me self."

"Oh!" cried Mrs. Flynn. "Refuse to go, is it? Here ye are caught by yer self 'blatin' an' ordinance, an' ye refuse to be arrested. Barney, ye'll be after havin' the charge of raylatin' an' officer fermin' yer name, too. 'Tis for ye to bat yerself on the head wid a club an' jerk yerself off to the station whether ye will or no."

"'Twould be a shame, Mary," protested Patrolman Flynn, "for me, bein the frind to me self that I am, to be that rough wid me self. Ye'd not have me be too hard on a frind, would ye?"

"Oh!" exclaimed Mrs. Flynn, again by way of answer, "Derrylickeen as juty it is! I kin see ye, Barney, walkin the car-pet in the capt'n's office, an' he tellin' ye something as juty an' frindship, an' that ye're laid off foot days widout pay."

"Anyhow," persisted the patrolman, "I'm not shtroneg enough to arrest me self. 'Tis too tough a job. I'm a desperate man when I'm roused, Mary, an' 'tis not the likes of me nor anyone else that kin lay the hand as the law on me self widout havin' to go to the doctor."

"I see ye now, oh, I see ye now, Barney," went on Mrs. Flynn, "I see ye readin' a notice on the board at the station, an' it says that Barney Flynn is discharged from the force for cowardice. That's what it says, Barney, an' it says more. It says that Barney Flynn is charged wid disorderly conduct, an' shootin' in the city limits, an' raylatin' an' officer, an' corruptin' the force by wo-orkin' the frindship racket, an' that any officer meastin' him will call the wagon an' run him in."

Patrolman Flynn heaved a deep sigh.

"Mary," he said, "ye wanted me to do a little wo-ork in the house the while I'm off juty."

"I did, Barney," she answered.

"I did it," asserted Patrolman Flynn with another sigh. "'Tis a tight hole! Rot me self in, Mary, an' me head's swimmin' wid all the troubles an' rules. 'Tis likly a little wo-ork'll make things easier for me."

"'Tis likly it will," retorted Mary grimly, and Patrolman Flynn put his official dignity and his revolver in his pocket, and tackled the plebeian task of mending a wash tub, meanwhile muttering to himself something about a woman who had "a regular la-awyer's head on her."

Steamer Monticello Goes Down in the Bay of Fundy.

THIRTY-SIX LIVES WERE LOST

An Old Coastwise Steamer Long Considered as Unseaworthy.

TWENTY-FIVE BODIES FOUND

Run into a Hurricane and Foundered in a Few Seconds.

Nov. 11.—The shore country far and a line out and the wreckage of the steamer City of Montreal, which foundered during the storm, twenty-five bodies of victims of the disaster have been recovered, which is still raging in the bay.

Bodies were arranged in a room of the hotel and Coroner Fuller, who held the inquest, gave the opinion of accident.

The first body was found at daylight, and the wreckage, which was supposed to be the survivors of the first boat, was discovered. A few yards distant the bodies of a passenger, Second Engineer, John N. H., and the body of a woman, all four had life shells around them. All four bodies were found along the beach. The bodies were found, all evidence pointing to the fact that the ship struck the beach and not the other way.

The body of Captain Harding, of the Monticello, has been found at Picton, New Brunswick, with a life belt. An un-identified body was found at a distance of about a mile from the shore. The body of a man, who was found at the same place, with the bodies of the Monticello and Second Engineer, were found yesterday. Several bodies are still unidentified. One body is supposed to be John Richmond, of Essex, N. B. The body of N. Coleman, not previously known to be on board, has been washed ashore and identified. He was a jeweler from Hamilton, Ontario, and carried samples valued at $500. A number of more than three women were found on board can be obtained. They were placed in the first boat, one of them, Stewards, Smith, one of the survivors, was told to make a statement. The Monticello was drowned in the surf. The body of a man, who was found, was identified. The third body was a colored man, named Lawrence, and the body was found in the water. The Monticello was found to be a small steamer.

The Monticello has been encountered by a hurricane, the total loss of life, as a number of passengers joined the Monticello, St. John without returning at the time of the disaster.

The Monticello was a small steamer, carrying freight and passengers. It was one of the oldest iron steamers in service having been built in 1860. It was 15 years old. For several years it was not looked upon as a safe boat.

NEED OF THE NAVY

Admiral Crowninshield Makes Startling Statement in His Report.

IS A LACK OF OFFICERS

Not One-Fourth Enough to Fight a First-Class Power.

IS ALSO SHORTAGE OF MEN

Makes a Few Urgent Recommendations and Asks Action of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 11.—A startling statement is made in the report of Admiral Crowninshield, chief of the navigation bureau, that the present personnel of the navy, would form barely one-fourth the total establishment necessary to fight a first class European power. It is barely sufficient for the Spanish war, and no longer can be considered, the report says, as an effective nucleus about which a larger establishment could be formed in case of war.

The admiral regards this need of the navy for officers and men as most urgent. He says the bureau can point to army cases where the service is being harmed by lack of officers. The naval service is suffering for want of instructors, and the present high standard of training cannot be maintained. Every bureau in the department is short of officers and the service, the report predicts, soon will fall behind in the struggle, first, for leadership, and then for equality, with other services. The disability of the naval service of officers has greatly increased since the Spanish war, and many of the best officers are being lost as a result of breaking down from overwork.

The admiral severely criticizes the inefficient attempt of congress at the last session to meet the immediate need for officers by authorizing the employment of retired officers, and he demands the immediate repeal of that act. He claims the retired list, intended as a reward for faithful service, otherwise becomes a hardship and a punishment. The personnel lost thus far has resulted in affording less officers than were on the active list before the passage, as while authorizing an increase, it failed to provide the means to carry it out. There are now 131 vacancies on the list of naval officers, when the vacancies can be least afforded. Therefore it is recommended that the next ten years appointments to the naval service be doubled, president and representatives in congress appointing two instead of one wherever authorized. In addition to the present authorized force, an advance of appointments as representative. There is to meet the future needs, it is recommended that whenever congress authorizes an increase of vessels to the navy it also provide in the same act, for the increase of officers and men to man the ships. It is declared it is now impossible to man the vessels of our navy already constructed with the present forces, not to mention other ships building or authorized.

REGULAR ARMY.

Congress Will Be Asked to Increase the Force.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Senator Proctor of the senate committee on military affairs, and Adjutant General Corbin of the war department, held an informal conference with the president yesterday relative to legislation to be asked congress in connection with the proposed increase in the regular army.

"Under the existing law," said Senator Proctor at the conclusion of the conference, "the present strength of the army is 65,000 regulars and 35,000 volunteers to be reduced on the first day of next July to 27,000 regulars. This is an absurdly small number, and congress will be asked by the president to reorganize the army upon a larger basis. It will be impossible to keep any troops in the Philippine unless the army is increased, to say nothing of the regulars for the future in this country."

"My own judgment," he continued, "provides a regular army of about 55,000, 60,000 men, with direction to the president to raise the total to 100,000. I have no doubt this legislation will be enacted at the coming session."

Six Million Chinese Are Now Threatened With Starvation.

Beijing, Nov. 11.—The following is the full text of a statement, hastily prepared, in the Chinese Gazette Saturday, as to the understanding reached by representatives of the powers in Peking, regarding the Chinese settlement.

"The agreement has been reached between the powers particularly regarding the punishment of the main culprits, mandating and prices; also regarding the witnessing of the execution of each punishment by the representatives of the powers; also regarding the principle of paying damages to the several governments for the cost of the China expedition, and for damages sustained by private persons and missions; also regarding the permanent stationing of sufficient guards for Peking legations; also regarding the raising of the Taku forts and finally, regarding the maintenance of secure and regular communication between Peking and the consulates.

About a number of other demands, put forth by the separate powers, negotiations are still pending.

Boxers Meet Heavy Loss in Engagement With Imperial Troops.

Victoria, Nov. 11.—News has been received by the steamship Victoria, concerning the rebellion in South China. The rebels have broken out in Kwang Si and Maratou, Su, commander-in-chief of the imperial forces, has asked for 30,000 men to suppress them. The British have dispatched infantry and artillery to the Kwang Si front. When the troops had been sent, they were met by a force of rebels who threw shells among them as they advanced on Sauchuan, routing them and killing 10.

A strong force of Kwang Si rebels, marching to join the Kwang Si rebels, met and defeated the imperial troops near Kuangtung and captured 30.

Great preparations for building, pine laying and drilling troops were going on in the affected provinces.

A battle was fought at Tien Tzu on Saturday, Oct. 17, between the imperial troops and the Boxers. The Boxers numbered 8000 and the Boxers 12,000. Two thousand men were left to guard Tien Tzu while General Tzu, in charge of the imperial troops, gave battle outside. The battle lasted all day and resulted in the defeat of the Boxers with great loss. Their leader, Chien, refused to retreat, and when the fight was lost fought with 200 desperadoes in a ravine until all were killed. His head was taken and hung on the walls of the city. Six thousand rebels were killed.

General Goodnow, of Shanghai, has made a summary of the Boxer matters, showing that 95 American and British missionaries were murdered and 170 of her missionaries in Shun Si and Chi Li are missing.

Chinese Officials Executed for Causing Massacre.

Peking, Nov. 12.—A profound impression was produced upon the natives at Pao Tzu Fu by the execution there of three officials, Tien Yung provincial treasurer; General Wei Shung Song and Colonel Kuo, who were condemned by the international court martial as among those responsible for the massacres there.

They were beheaded, and their heads exposed on poles the day before the execution. It is probable that despite discrepancies, that the foregoing officials are identical with those referred to in a dispatch from Tien Tzu, the 6th which said:

"Ting Yung, acting viceroy of Chihli, Tarter General Qiu Hong, Colonel Wang Chao Ma, were shot at Pao Tzu Fu by order of court martial."

Small Powers Cause Friction.

London, Nov. 12.—"Serious friction has been caused in the peace negotiations in Peking," says the Daily Mail's correspondent at Peking, "wiring the 9th, 'by Belgium, Denmark, Holland and Spain claiming to have a veto stand in regard to important decisions. Russia and France have supported their claims which are opposed by the powers. Belgium is especially impetuous and intensely pro-Russian."

PLACE HUNTERS AFTER HIM

Lorimer Credited With Desire to Be Warehouse Commissioner.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Governor-elect Yates spent Saturday in Chicago, arriving early in the morning and returning to Jacksonville in the evening. Every minute of the time he spent in the city was given up to callers, and at that he could not see one-third of the people who wanted to see him.

The nominal reason for calling given by most of his visitors was a desire to congratulate him upon his election. Incidentally, however, each had a word to say about his qualifications for some office in the gift of the governor, or the claims which some friend had on the administration.

Members-elect of the general assembly also called in large numbers, thinking the next governor might give some hint as to what he wanted or would expect in connection with the organization of that body, but in this they were disappointed as to all inquiries in those lines.

Judge Yates replied that he had no far refused to take any part in the contest over the United States senatorship, the speakership of the house, or the organization of the state senate, and intended to follow this program to the end. He had been elected governor, he said, not party dictator, and he intended to confine himself to the duties of his office and allow the members of the legislature to handle their own affairs as they see fit.

When asked yesterday regarding the calls made on him by state senators representing the two factions seeking control of the upper branch of the general assembly, Judge Yates gave out the following written statement:

"I have received today a number of calls from state senators and state senators-elect. In every case they assured me that the only kind of organization of the state senate they contemplated or favored was such an organization as would be not in the interest of any division or faction as element of the republican party but with the steadfast purpose of promoting such legislation as would thoroughly subserve the public interest and meet with the unquestioned approval of the whole people.

"I assured the senators that these conditions would, I felt, be commended by men of all parties, especially the republican party, and certainly coincided with my views, and that so long as these purposes controlled them I would be glad to lead them my aid."

Senator Oulson and Governor Tanner called on the governor-elect during the morning, but they were simply visits of courtesy and the interview was confined to congratulations and exchange of expressions of good will. Other callers were Congressmen Reeves and Cannon, Rabbi Hirsch, Morris R. Macfadyen, William Lorimer, Judge Elbridge Tamm, John M. Murphy, T. M. Jamieson, State Attorney Dances, Perry A. Bull and Henry L. Norris.

Messrs. Lorimer and Jamieson had an especially long talk with the next governor and all sorts of stories were circulated around the retards of the hotel regarding their mission and the hopes they had of securing assurances that the Cook county organization would be recognized as the determining factor in distributing the state patronage which would naturally fall to the share of Chicago.

It was stated that Congressman Lorimer, having failed of reelection, would like the place on the board of railway and warehouse commissioners now held by Joseph Ellwell and the local organization would back up the demand.

Another story had Dr. Jamieson had an applicant for the place and still another mentioned Morris E. Madden. Perry Bull was naturally anxious to retake his present position of attorney for the insurance department and other visitors had similar plans.

Governor Yates however refused to make any promise at present or to commit himself in any way. He said he was going on a vacation trip to the south and on his return might have the announcement of some appointments to make.
